

Action plan for emergency or urgent situations

Division of Atomic Physics

Serious medical conditions, heart attack, diabetic coma, etcetera

- Press the lab alarm button, call (0-)112
- Give first aid to the best of your own ability, if needed give life preserving treatment until the arrival of medical personnel
- Contact a superior, if your immediate superior cannot be reached contact next superior in line.
- If the injured person is unable to communicate, do not contact next of kin. Communication with next of kin should be handled by medical personnel.

Handling of other personnel, not injured

- Gather the people who are affected by/have observed the accident, and appoint a person to take care of them. Ensure that persons in shock receive proper attention.

Other injuries and incidents

- For injuries that require medical attention: secure transport to hospital/primary care. In less urgent cases medical advice can be obtained at (0-)1177 and information related to poisoning can be obtained at (0-)08331231. However, in urgent situations the appropriate action is still calling (0-)112.
- Injuries that do not require medical attention: handle to the best of your ability and then contact your immediate superior, who is responsible that information reaches the Head of Division. All incidents, even if there are no personal injuries, should be reported to the Head of Division.

Fire/gas

- Warn – Save – Alert – Extinguish – Evacuate
Evacuation alarm buttons alerting the fire brigade are situated in each hall way. Then call (0-)112 and give additional information.

Violence, theft, burglary

- In urgent situations call (0-)112
- If not urgent report to the immediate superior and call 20700 (University security).
